MOORE'S AUTO TOP SHOP

Moore's Auto Top Shop of Auburn conduct an auto renewal establishment that is noted for its completeness and efficiency of its service.

They offer a very complete auto body and fender repairing service and have equipped their establishment with the latest of equipment for the complete repair of bodies and fenders. No matter what kind of smash-up you might have been in you will find that they will be to take the car or truck and put it in such condition that you would never know it had been in a collision.

If in motoring over the highways you have been bumped by the road hog or a mad driver and the body of the car is dented or fenders bent, lamps crushed, etc., just drive around here and they will fix you up so that all will look like new.

During the last decade the top and upholstery business has gained more in importance than in all the previous history of civilization. In the olden times little attention was paid to these as there were no tops for the chariots but with the advent of the buggy and the carriage they took on new significance. The auto brought them to the fullest development and today they will finish your car either in top or upholstery just as well as Fisher or any other national maker as they are in touch with the sources top, upholstery or repairs would do and have made a study of all methods of construction. With the auto engineering at a climax more attention is being paid to the appointments and luxury of the car and here you can get any kind of materials that you desire and have your car topped according to your individual ideas.

The welding department is fully equipped for all classes of work, including the welding of cast iron, bronze, brass and aluminum, according to the most approved and scientific process. This work is featured for the accommodation of autoists, farmers, garages and manufacturers and is a great accommodation to the public.

This institution has kept many a truck and auto on the road that might have found its way to the graveyard much sooner if it had not been for their comprehensive and rapid service. Too many people think when something gets wrong with the body it is done for. No matter what you might think it will always pay to take it around here and see what can be done as often for a few dollars it will be placed in good condition and will last a long time.

In this review we are glad to compliment Moore's Auto Top Shop for the excellent materials, fine workmanship, very rapid service and modern styles and to suggest that anyone who is in need of a new top, upholstery or repairs would do well to drive around and have a talk with them.

CAR BURNED AT GILEAD

A Buick sport roadster with Ohio registration left the road in the mill beyond the Roberts place, in Gilead last Saturday night and after overturning, became ablaze and was badly damaged, although some parts were saved. The passengers, said to be three men and a young lady from Gorham, escaped serious injury. They came to Bethel to see a doctor and returned to Gorham. The car was speeding and going over the top of the hill the driver saw a car stopped some distance ahead. He applied the brakes and the wheels locked, throwing the car out of control.

CUSHING-BENNETT

Gerald Cushing of West Bethel and Miss Mildred Bennett of Gilead were united in marriage at Rockland, Maine, Saturday, August 17. Mrs. Cushing is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bennett of Gilead. Mr. Cushing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cushing of West Bethel. He is a graduate of Central High School, Springfield, Mass., and Bates College, class of 1929. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cushing are prominent in Grange work. The best wishes of a host of friends are extended to the young couple.

PIONEERS IN AIRWAY MARKING

Only a few years ago a fire company, at its own expense, put markers along the Pacific highway giving travelers at that time the only authentic information as to the distances along the route. Today, less than 15 years later, the airplane has brought a new method of travel. Few flyers know anything about navigation or the art of following a course without land marks to guide them. As a result airway beacons are essential for safety in flying, particularly at night. The Richfield Oil Company has adopted a progressive program of building 3,000,000 candlepower steel tower beacons in conjunction with its modern gas stations, approximately every 50 miles along the Pacific highway from Canada to Mexico. It is said that these beacons are visible in clear weather for 50 miles and the light which illuminates them will penetrate fog and mist for a great distance. This has a private company again stepped into the breach and marked out newest transportation routes, namely, the airways, and made them more safe and practical for amateur flying as well as mail and transport planes. These beacons would cost local communities thousands of dollars which could never be raised for a uniform system to criss several states. Elected as they are they illustrate the duty which private industry feels it owes as a public service in conjunction with the operation of its business which is of such a widespread public character.

COST OF LIVING IN 1860

While looking over some old papers recently, D. G. Lovejoy came across a leaf from an old account book. He does not know where the book came from, but it was evidently not in this vicinity for a notation at the top of the page reads "works for Union R. R. Com."

THE ONE MILE TOWN

Dr. J. E. Aubrey's lecture, "The One Mile Town," which he delivered at the Chautauque tent last Thursday evening, covered in a masterly way a subject of vital interest to every small town. His talk followed the text: "And whosoever shall compel three to go a mile, go with him twain." He emphasized the pitiful plight of the towns whose people refused to go the second mile, illustrating his discourse with examples he had met with in a long career as an authority on community subjects. The comic opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," was presented at the close of Dr. Aubrey's lecture, and was well applauded by the large audience. The programs presented this year were considered by many to be above the usual standard, and the contract for next year was signed by several more than the minimum number of guarantors.

LITTLEHALE REUNION

Last Sunday marked the seventh annual Littlehale reunion. This year the gathering was held at the Wight's Brook Camps. Soon after ten o'clock the cars began to enter the grove that had been chosen by the hostess, Mrs. F. W. Wight. From that time until long past the afternoon members of the family with their own households arrived in vehicles of all classes. At one-thirty a buffet luncheon of baked beans, sandwiches of all kinds, cakes, cookies and ice cream made up a beautiful feast. After the eats a business meeting was held at which it was overwhelmingly voted to continue the year's event. Plans were discussed regarding the repairs on Eames' Hall, the usual place of meeting. The afternoon was passed in making new acquaintances and renewing old ones. Excursions were made to the "old swimmer's hole" by a number of the younger generation. An undershoe was turned was a point of interest for the more mechanically inclined. These present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Littlehale, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Littlehale, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Littlehale and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Littlehale and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Hendrickson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chapman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Andrews and family, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Eiling and family of Seaside, Penn. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thurston and family and Mrs. Y. A. Thurston of Andover. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Eames and family of Freeburg, Mrs. Abigail Littlehale, Mrs. Ellis Lane and family of Erol, N. H. and Mrs. Louise Littlehale and family of Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Minnie Davis of Freeburg, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cole and family of Berlin, N. H. Mrs. Marjorie Hanson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Thurston, Mrs. Ralph Young and son, and Rev. David of Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wight of Newry.

JOSEPH BLAISDELL

Joseph Blaisdell passed away Saturday morning at six o'clock at the Rumford Community Hospital where he had been taken Thursday night. Mr. Blaisdell was born in Dexter 75 years ago and the greater part of his life he had worked in the woods. For several years past he had been employed by W. H. Thurston for some time. His health had been poor and at the Thurston's fire two weeks ago he was badly affected by smoke, which hastened the end. His last children and his kindly ways endeared him to those who knew him best, and he will be especially missed in the Thurston home. He is survived by several nephews and cousins at Dexter. Funeral services were held at Greenleaf's Undertaking Rooms Monday morning. Rev. Mr. Patterson officiating. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

ROXBURY DEFEATS THE BETHEL

SECONDS 9 TO 1

Saturday four regulars and five picked up players journeyed to Roxbury and faced defeat at the hands of a team that had previously trimmed 14 to 5. Bethel's pitcher pitched for 10 innings and was rather freely. Errors and wild pitching were responsible for most of the runs, however. Edredge pitched about instead of second, and the Bethelites to play second, were not up to the task. He allowed 11 runs in eleven chances. Goddard pitched the weak attack with two home runs and Robinson and Edredge were responsible for 25.00 Bethel's other two hits.

BETHEL ANNIHILATES LOVELL 8 TO 1

Rodney Allows Three Hits and Strikes Out Twelve

Sunday, Bethel got sweet revenge on Lovell for the defeat suffered at her hands on July 21st. The game would have been a shutout but for an unfortunate error in the ninth. Southern, the only Lovell man who could solve Bartlett's delivery at all, was safe on Howe's error and went all the way to third. The next man had two strikes on him before he managed to squeak out the third hit off Rodney to score the Bowdoin athlete. Bethel's first scores came in the third. Rex flew out to the third baseman. Rodney got a single and Maynard was safe on an error. Both men scored on Gill's hit after Roger had fanned. The fourth was the death blow to whatever hopes Lovell had of annexing another victory at our expense. After Bobby had been thrown out by the pitcher, Swan and Howe made successive hits. Rex was hit; Swan scored when Rodney was safe on an error. With the bases loaded Maynard White, local Babe Ruth, crashed out a beautiful home run. This concluded the scoring until the ninth. Bethel scored a run then hits by Gill and Scotty. Rodney had Lovell eating out of his hand until the fatal ninth and would have shut them out then but for an excusable error by Howe. Only three hits were made off his deceptive delivery and two of these before the fifth. Lovell had the Bridgton Pine Tree League infield but it did not look as good as the local inner defense. Two errors were made, one by Roger and the other by Howe. Gill, Robertson, and White led with the stick with every man on the team making a hit except Roger and Rex.

NEWS REVIEW OF
CURRENT EVENTSProgress of Negotiations at The Hague—Start of Zeppelin for Tokyo.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.

INTERNATIONAL negotiations at The Hague during the week reached a point that virtually assured early evacuation of the Rhineland by the allies, and made it fairly certain that Great Britain would have its way in the matter of the distribution of German reparations. Philip Snowden's extraordinarily un diplomatic, not to say insulting, language in characterizing the arguments of M. Cheron, French finance minister, as "ridiculous" and "grotesque" threatened at first to disrupt the proceedings. Snowden apologized, though he and his government stood firm in their position that the reparations division in the Young plan could not be accepted. Thereupon the representatives of France, Belgium, Italy and Japan began to figure out methods of satisfying the English, realizing some sacrifices must be made in order that the entire Young plan should not be scrapped. They agreed, however, to stand together and not to make separate bargains or compromises with the British. Mr. Snowden indicated he would accept an increase of $9,520,000 per annum in the British share and the four powers named got together $4,760,000 of this, but Italy refused to make further contribution and Snowden repeated his ultimatum. It seemed likely the Young plan insofar as Germany is concerned would be accepted and that the allies would postpone the distribution of the reparations among themselves until after the meeting of the League of Nations assembly late in September. Meanwhile the English may be induced to state something of their demands, think the French.

Thomas W. Lamont, the American banker who helped devise the Young plan, admitted in London that he had been asked to go to The Hague to do in the financial deliberations, but said he had decided it was wiser for him to stay away.

HAVING made the return trip from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen in fast time and without any difficulties, the German zeppelin Graf Zeppelin was refueled and continued on its projected flight around the world. It carried 41 persons, 20 of whom were passengers and emergency food supplies in case of a forced landing. The next stopping place was to be Tokyo, and this second leg of the trip was considered to be the most perilous for the huge airship. The route laid out would take it across Russia, Siberia, the Sea of Okhotsk and Japan.

Doctor Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, has been granted a patent on a rigid dirigible with separate gas cells, like the one he is flying around the earth, by the United States patent office. The patent, applied for in 1923, has been assigned to the Friedrichshafen Zeppelin company.

LOUIS BLETHER, the French pilot who made the first flight across the English channel, has perfected designs for a new type of airplane that can be automatically converted into a life-boat in case of a forced landing at sea, and he says that it will carry passengers between Paris and New York in 24 hours.

Future traffic between the continents will be carried on in neither Zeppelins nor hydroplanes, but in large land planes, according to the Frenchman, who is at present collaborating with the Armstrong company of the United States for the establishment of a regular air line between Gotham and Paris. The Armstrong concern already has begun the construction of a series of ocean airports stretching across the Atlantic, concerning which much has been printed heretofore.

SECRETARY OF STATE STIMSON is highly pleased with the progress made in negotiations between the United States and Great Britain on the question of naval armament reduction. Washington officials are hopeful it will be possible to hold a five-power naval conference for the discussion of cruiser and auxiliary ship tonnage reduction late this year or early in 1939.

This statement was given out following a breakfast given by President Hoover for the purpose of acquainting members of the naval general board with the progress of the conversations at London and to afford an opportunity for a round-table discussion of all phases of the problem.

Mr. Stimson said that the President and the State department expected the fullest co-operation from the Navy department experts in the campaign for naval reduction and that the navy experts would be given careful consideration. He denied that any rift has developed between the navy general board and the civilians on the question of just how far this country should go in reducing its navy.

PRESIDENT HOOVER is taking action in accord with his pre-election statements in which he declared for complete co-ordination of the work of improving inland waterways for navigation, irrigation, flood control and power development. His announcement that his administration and the officials of California have reached an agreement for the appointment of a joint commission to determine the policies to be pursued in such development in California. Another joint commission will work out the problems presented by the proposed construction of a bridge across San Francisco Bay.

ONE of the next steps for the stabilization of agriculture by the federal farm board will be the creation of a wool marketing agency. A conference of representatives of producers' co-operative wool marketing associations and producer-owned warehouse associations will be held in Chicago some time in October. Chairman Alexander Legge, of the board, announced. At this conference definite plans will be evolved for a national co-operative wool sales agency, to include in its membership all of the various types of co-operatives now engaged in handling the commodity.

Julius Barnes, William M. Jardine, former secretary of agriculture, and other prominent men, have begun the formation of a big fruit and vegetable marketing corporation, but Mr. Legge said his plan of organization had not yet been approved by the board. The corporation is to have a capital of $50,000,000, and in its initial work will be with 50 subsidiary co-operatives in 25 states.

THOSE perambulating revolutionists in Venezuela got hold of an old German steamer and to the number of 400 landed under cover of darkness and attacked the important city of Cumana. The government forces defended the place vigorously and repulsed the attackers, though their commander, then Emilio Fernandez, was killed. The casualties were heavy and the fight lasted four hours, coming to an end when a government airplane appeared and attacked the rebels with machine gun fire and bombs. President Gomez was not unduly alarmed but sent three vessels loaded with troops to try to capture the "pirate" steamer.

PEACE negotiations at Manchouli between the Chinese and Russians were broken off, according to rather hostile dispatches from the Orient, and the Manchurian situation again became threatening. Tokyo reports and there had been a skirmish on the heights west of Manchouli and that three Russian gunboats had landed troops in three Chinese villages on the Amur river. More Soviet citizens were arrested in Manchuria and some of them deported, and in Harbin the Russian White Guards were believed to be organizing an anti-Jewish pogrom. The Chinese government sent word to Moscow that it would be forced to take retaliatory measures unless it received assurances that the Soviet firing at Suifu would not be repeated. The Soviet government announced the formation of a "far eastern" army in view of the threatening conditions on the frontier.

THE tenth anniversary of the Weimar constitution of the German republic was celebrated with great enthusiasm in Berlin, and by dint of taking extraordinary precautions and making numerous arrests the police suppressed the intended demonstrations of the communists and nationalists. In the vanguard of the huge parade was a group of New Yorkers and Chicagoans who carried the American flag.

PREMIER MUSSOLINI of Italy is putting into effect the Fascist policy of splitting up estates that have been lying untilled and turning them over for cultivation by small farmers. The other day the feudal estates of the Doria family, comprising 2,500 acres, were thus divided among peasants in a picturesque ceremony at Roccamare. The land was separated into 230 parcels and the division made by lottery. The proprietor of the estates, Prince Filippo Doria-Pamphili, gets partial indemnity, and the peasants are bound to improve the land and to assist in the general work of reclaiming the district, which is in the Pontine marshes.

SPAIN is not nearly so subservient to its dictator as is Italy to Mussolini. This was evidenced by the action of the general labor union congress in session in Madrid in daily rejecting the government's invitation to send five representatives to the national assembly and issuing a manifesto to the Spanish people strongly attacking the dictatorship of Gen. Primo de Rivera. The new constitution, says the manifesto, would establish "Asiatic absolutism" in Spain, wreck all progress and return the country to the tyranny of Charles V. In comment the dictator said: "The dictatorship is not losing its serenity and is continuing to be assured of support by the larger part of public opinion. I will not abandon power until I am sure of giving the country an ample juridical base to support the new regime."

CONSIDERABLE fun has been poked by the unthinking at the proposals to reform the calendar. But the national committee on calendar simplification has just reported to Secretary of State Stimson that there is nation-wide interest and widespread approval of the plan. The report, made by Chairman George Eastman, the camera manufacturer, is intended for Mr. Stimson's use in preparing a reply to an inquiry from the league of nations, which contemplates calling an international calendar conference if enough nations agree to participate.

"The inconveniences which the present calendar's defects impose," says the report, "have multiplied with the progress of civilization, and consequently so during the rapid economic expansion of the last hundred years. They are being felt more and more. A defect which has grown to be a cause of very serious inconvenience is the splitting of weeks at the beginning and end of months and years. The lack of comparability between corresponding divisions of the year, particularly as to the months, is one of the most serious inconveniences. It makes inaccurate and deceptive by all the organized agencies of civilization to measure progress and control their activities—i. e., statistical data."

STREET car strikers of New Orleans and their sympathizers stormed the city hall and beat up Acting Mayor Walmaley and four councilmen and then engaged in a general fight with the police in the course of which four men were shot. The attack was made while 200 union men were meeting with the council to demand the continuance of bus and trolley car operation.

FEDERAL Judge Morris in Wilmington, Del., handed down a judgment against the Radio Corporation of America in a suit over patent rights. Two of the beneficiaries are Francis W. Dunmore, a government employee in the bureau of standards, Washington, D. C., and Percival D. Lowell, a former bureau of standards employee and at present employed by a radio manufacturing company. The Unilateral Condenser Corporation of New York is the third beneficiary.

According to William Doolittle of the condenser corporation, the suit will affect every manufacturer making radio sets with electric light socket attachment and will involve at least $50,000,000 in back royalties.

The Sheriff's Prisoner

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright.)

THE new sheriff of Armadillo county was looking for a thief, the one who had broken into the schoolhouse and stolen several things belonging to pupils and to Link Larrabee, the school teacher. And so John Wayne, one of the trustees, had called on the sheriff and in his close-mouthed way pushed the information that it would be well to keep an eye on the schoolhouse.

And the first moment that Sheriff Gray turned a pair of hands, though honest, blue eyes toward the schoolhouse he scented a thief. Presently he heard footsteps in the bare boards inside, the door opened wider and a big girl stepped out, closing the door softly and locking it.

On her arm she carried some cloth, one or two coats and a bright blue cap.

She glanced hurriedly around, listened for an instant and then slipped round the building and took the trail at led back through the trees toward the river.

The sheriff smiled, grimly, and shook his head. He was a very young man, and it had not been so many years since he had attended that little schoolhouse himself.

"Gee, it's my luck to have to catch girl first throw," he grumbled as he mounted his horse and started up the trail after the girl. "She's a pretty one at that—half like mine and some color. What's she with a bunch of old rags—hey!" called abruptly as she stood aside to let him pass.

"Well," she asked coolly, but he scanned her look in her eyes and said himself.

"Where you going with all those rags and things out of this schoolhouse?"

"You want those?" she asked, eagerly, holding them out.

He took them from her willing hands, placing them awkwardly across his saddle bow. "I'm right sorry to be to do this."

"If you have what you want you'd better ride on," she said, stepping back.

"I don't know but what I shall take a long, miss," he said gravely.

"Take me?" There was terror in her voice.

"Yes'm. I should arrest you."

"You? Arrest me?" He was surprised to see that she was holding little blue-steel weapon in her right hand.

"Got me covered, eh?" he laughed, at his eyes did not laugh.

"Well, are you coming with me?" asked after another moment.

"No."

"You're under arrest, ma'am."

She frowned a little and then smiled a friendly way that delighted him. He asked himself why the smile of a girl—a girl he was taking to jail, too—should set his heart to galloping.

"Yes, I remember that. I will walk beside you if you don't mind."

He slipped to the ground and tendered his mount. "It's some little blue, miss," he insisted.

She hesitated, and he saw her presently she consented, and he led her into the big saddle.

"Do you know Mr. Wayne?" he asked after they had traveled awhile.

She hesitated. "You mean the old trustee?"

"That's right. I'm taking you to a place, Flat Hills. He sent me to get somebody who was robbing the schoolhouse, and, worse luck, I found a right away, so you've got to see a old gentleman, and if he says 'kip, why I'll be hanged if I take a there!'"

"That's good of you," she said softly.

"You can't be from Armadillo county, you wouldn't hold on to a saddle at way," he told her.

"What way would you hold it?" she asked demurely.

"Not at all. Armadillo girls ride a little square. Here's old Wayne's way now. If you don't try to squirm out of it, miss, I'll do the best I can for you, but you better come clean and tell me the whole thing," he asked earnestly.

She bent her head and smiled, they lifted it proudly. "I'm not trying to squirm out of anything. It is simple. I left some things in the schoolhouse—in fact, my trunk was left here by mistake and I couldn't come to take it to the ranch, so I packed some clothes and I went down and took them out of my trunk. Some he will come for my trunk tomorrow, and now—" She smiled at him wickedly.

"Who are your?" he asked abruptly.

"The new school teacher—stopping at Mr. Wayne's if you please. Mr. Wayne, and now that we are here, say I have my things? And oh, thank you!"

She watched him ride away, adding the away. A grace of horse, of rider, "Oh, I'd be sorry," he smiled to himself. "I know he's not sorry, and I am glad, but I was afraid at first I thought he was a bad bandit." She leaned against the seat and laughed happily.

"You seem mighty happy," granted Mr. Wayne as he loped across the road.

"I'm going to be," she ventured lightly. For once their eyes had met and clung, and she knew he would come riding back again, and again.

LAKEWOOD PLAYERS HAVE "HAMLET" IN REHEARSALS

Play to be Presented With Star Cast

Norman Bel Geddes, famed creator of stage settings who did "The Miracle" for Max Reinhardt among a great number of other important New York productions, has arrived at Lakewood to start rehearsals of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" which the Lakewood Players will present during the week of August 20th with a special matinee on Saturday, August 31st at 2 o'clock standard time.

Mr. Bel Geddes has devised an original scheme for the presentation of the world's classic drama doing away with many of the long-established traditions of the play. The setting, for instance, is so designed that changes of scenery will be eliminated and the various scenes have been worked out in most combinations attained through the art of lighting. This is done away with by the use of the play approximately forty-five minutes.

The setting is a gigantic superstructure of platforms having eight different levels. This setting necessitates a complete reconstruction of the stage, including an area which now includes the first three rows of the orchestra floor. The building of the setting alone will cost in the neighborhood of $6000. The cast will be one of the most pretentious and brilliant assemblages of prominent players ever seen in Maine.

... Now all debate about Gasoline Quality is settled

It's Here Today

Socony Special plus Ethyl

TWO YEARS ago we introduced Socony Special—a superior high-compression gasoline. Thousands of motorists discovered that it was far better than other gasolines, and gladly paid a premium for it.

The sales mounted. Perhaps we should have been satisfied, but we were not. We said: "Is there anything that we can possibly do to make Socony Special still better?"

There was one thing. We could add Ethyl fluid to it.

Ethyl fluid is an anti-knock preparation that makes any gasoline better. Even a poor gasoline can be given "zero knock-rating" if enough Ethyl fluid is added. But a poor gasoline with a zero knock-rating is still a poor gasoline.

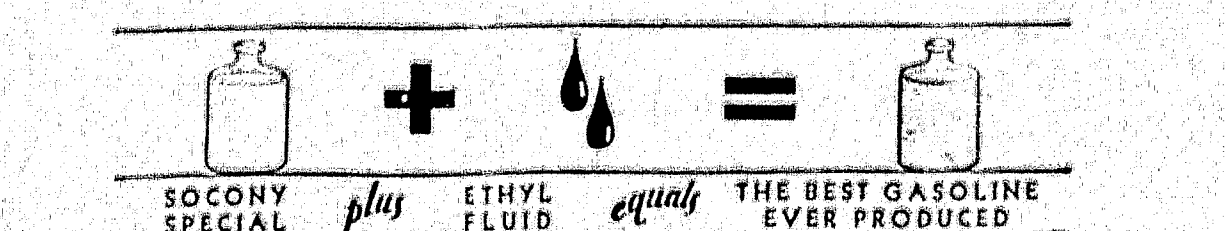

Never before in New York and New England has Ethyl fluid been added to a gasoline of Socony Special quality. We decided—at extra cost to ourselves, but no extra cost to you—to do what had never been done. Today for the first time you can buy Socony Special plus Ethyl, at the same price that you have been paying for Socony Special alone. The gasoline debate is settled. We guarantee that in anti-knock quality, in smooth performance, in pick-up, in everything that you want in a gasoline, the new Socony Special (with Ethyl) is better than any gasoline you have ever used.

Test It for Just One Week

We urge you not to lose a single day in trying this amazing new motor fuel. By all means give it a fair and honest trial. Make sure your tank is empty, or nearly empty, so that your motor will get the full benefit of this new Socony Special.

Use it for a week. Check your pick-up and power. Note the smooth operation and complete control. At the end of a week you'll be convinced. From then on, no other gasoline will ever do.

are traded in for the new Ford

SOME people think we accept nothing but used Fords for trade-ins when selling the Model A. That is a wrong impression. Cars of many makes are traded in for the new Ford—some low priced and some not so low—and many of them are unusual bargains in unused transportation.

There is a definite reason why we can offer you extra value in these used cars. The value of the new Ford is so high, and the cost so low, that excessive trade-in commissions on buyers' used cars are not possible. In other words, we set the trade-in figure at just what the used car is worth.

This means that when we offer a used car for sale, there is no "padding" the price to take care of an unreasonable trade-in allowance. Our used-car department is based on a spirit of fair-dealing. Fair-dealing with the first owner who makes the trade-in, and the second owner who buys the unused mileage.

Model T Fords are plentiful and carry a reputation. Other makes are traded strictly according to the quoted transportation in there. Come in today and see some of the bargains we are in a position to offer.
